

Enzo Sebastianelli

Innovation Project Manager

Graduated from ICAM (Toulouse), Enzo got a first experience in operational logistics as activity manager for a big agrobusiness company. Passionate about innovation and how it can leverage industry, he joined Daher as innovation project manager in the DaherLab. From 2017 until 2020, he was in charge of PoC Together, call for projects at group scale in order to collect business needs across all activities. He likes to be attentive to operations, understanding their problems and trying to solve them by implementing technologies such as AI, IoT and many others. In a logic of spreading innovation mindset, Enzo had also the mission to organize Innovation Days, events opened to a large public, going from operators to clients showing Daher's Innovation strategy.

Since 2021 he has the position of innovation platform manager.
