Jing Li

Senior Technologist

I work for GKN Aerospace as a senior technologist in Horizon one Technology. I am responsible for delivering large-scale industry 4.0 transformation projects to drive standardization in engineering tools, process, and resources. We support GKN One Aerospace strategy across 41 international sites. My main area of expertise is associated to digital transformation. Currently, I am responsible for leading a technology team to develop and implement digital manufacturing operation management solutions for GKN Civil Airframe.
