AEROSPACE ADDITIVE MANUFACTURING SUMMIT

Philippe Bussi

Kepstan® General Manager

Philippe Bussi started his career at Atochem in 1993, after a PhD in Polymer Science at Case Western Reserve University. Over the first few years of his career, he was involved in the development of new specialty polymers compositions via compounding, before moving to Corporate Development to help the company broaden its scope of specialty polymers. In 2003 he assumed business responsibility for then Atofina of the Platamid® Copolyamide thermoplastic hot melt business. More recently, since 2014 he is the General Manager for Arkema's Kepstan® PEKK product line for which Additive Manufacturing is a major focus.
